General Instructions
A beneficiary can be a person, trust, charity, or your estate. Write only one beneficiary on each line. Make sure you write the full names of all beneficiaries. For example, if you name your children as beneficiaries, DO NOT merely write "children" on one of the lines; instead, write the full names of all your children on separate lines. DO NOT name a "joint account" holder as a beneficiary. Account ownership automatically transfers to the joint owner(s) upon the death of the "primary account" holder/member.

Order of Payment
For "individual accounts," upon an account owner's death, the account will be payable to the beneficiary(ies) listed unless the beneficiary(ies) has(have) predeceased the account owner. For "joint accounts," upon the death of all account holders, the account will be payable to the beneficiary(ies) listed unless the beneficiary(ies) has(have) predeceased the account owner.
